

the theatre at home

the task is to create individual housing forms for people who work in the theatre, such as actors, dancers, stage designers, choreographers.... different artists from different cultures and ages live and work together in studios where they have the opportunity to create their scenery themselves and also to present their products, such like dramas, performances, literature or music on a small stage in a filled gap – at home.