

Waste-based alkali activated construction materials in the CO₂-neutral circular economy

→ Development of clinker free building materials based on inorganic industrial waste and secondary raw materials.

→ advanced mineralogical, micro/nanostructural and (hydro)chemical analytics will be linked with innovative monitoring tools and complemented by experimental approaches, (micro)biological analyses, modeling and life cycle assessment calculations.

