

Master Computer Science and Master Software Engineering and Management

The graduates of the following bachelor's degree programs are potentially granted without admission procedure. Please note that depending on the program completed by a candidate, admission to certain Master studies is not possible and that in some cases additional courses (Auflagen) may be prescribed either before the beginning of the regular studies or within the regular studies as a replacement for free and elective courses. The additional courses are defined by the Dean of Studies individually for each candidate.
