

Master Biomedical Engineering:

The graduates of the following bachelor's degree programs are potentially granted without admission procedure. Please note that depending on the program completed by a candidate in some cases additional courses (Auflagen) may be prescribed either before the beginning of the regular studies or within the regular studies as a replacement for free and elective courses. The additional courses are defined by the Dean of Studies individually for each candidate.

1. Johannes Kepler University Linz

Medical Engineering