

Hayrunisa Oduncu is currently pursuing his bachelor's degree in Sociology at Van Yüzüncü Yıl University. She participated in a study on the youth profile in Turkey, during which he conducted surveys and interviews with young people. Additionally, to observe social relationships and continue his work in the field, he has an active role in the sociology department's student community.

Project as IAS-STS: Cargo bikes at Graz

The research project analyzes how and why people using Cargo bikes at Graz; examine the potential of cargo bicycles in urban transportation as part of sustainable mobility solutions. In this context, the project will evaluate the environmental impacts, economic benefits, and role of cargo bicycles in urban logistics, aiming to highlight their contribution to a greener and more efficient transportation system