

Analysis of a 110 kV grid

The distribution grid has to be analysed on the basis of the (n-1)-criterium for line loadings as well as the loadings at the main sub station. Power plant expansions and increasing loads in the distribution grid are expected in the future. A new coupling point to the transmission grid is also under construction. These other influences should also be included in this analysis and compared.

Supervisor: Ao. Univ.-Prof. Dr. Herwig Renner

